

You Can't Teach a Thing... if you Ain't Got that Zing!

Presented by Kerry Cue & Heather Blakey

PROGRAM OVERVIEW

This hilarious and practical PD program combines a Re-Energising Workshop for Staff, and a Master Class to skill up the Leadership Team to provide on-going wellbeing initiatives.

Why? Teaching is demanding. There's no time. You're constantly addressing the high needs of students, parents and the administration. Multiple issues from new coursework to marking criteria to allergy management to eco-friendly power usage, demand your attention. Resources are an issue! Accessing technology is a challenge! In class students are distracted, disinterested and/or agitated by the electronic noise, family dysfunction and the economic pressures of today. Teaching is exhausting, and that's on a good day. You need strategies to maintain your energy levels to power through each new day.
