

Life Without Limits: Women in Leadership Retreat

Presented by D. Trinidad Hunt

PROGRAM OVERVIEW

Go beyond success to achieve significance in this inspirational and interactive program.

When Michelangelo was asked, "How did you ever create David?" he answered, "I didn't create David. I saw David and then took away everything that wasn't him."

So it is with us. We don't have to search to discover our true purpose. We just have to see it and take away everything that stands between where we are and what we've seen.

Would your life be different?

If you could...

- Become more effective
- Maximize more of your natural potential
- Express yourself more fully

If you could experience...

- Enhanced joy and vitality
- Increased levels of satisfaction and success
- Richer more rewarding relationships

The leader of today has a multitude of areas to balance; family, profession, physical health, mental and emotional stamina and much more. This program will help you balance all of these and develop the capacities necessary for leadership today. This retreat is a unique opportunity open to women with leadership responsibilities in the education sector.

PROGRAM DETAILS

Life Without Limits

In the Life Without Limits program participants dissolve limiting beliefs that might have interfered with their experience of full success, satisfaction and joyful self-expression. Using leading edge information from the fields of neurology, cognition and learning, participants learn to vaporize barriers and clear their life track of old outmoded patterns that no longer serve them.

Through individual exercises as well as team discussion and activities, participants reconnect with their own natural source of wisdom and inner knowing. Everyone has gifts and talents and each of us is here to use our talents for the betterment of mankind.

In this inspirational and highly interactive program, participants will discover a new level of fulfillment in life and work. We are meant to live our lives without limits and in this program participants will discover the power of intention and will leave with a renewed sense of personal purpose.
